Who We Are

Established in 1875, the Arkansas Medical Society is recognized as THE VOICE of Arkansas physicians. Over 4,000 physicians, residents and medical students depend on the AMS to promote and protect the interests of their patients and their profession. The strength of its membership and professionalism of its leadership and staff have made the AMS one of the most trusted and influential organizations in Arkansas.

What We Do For You

The Arkansas Medical Society represents your interests. We develop and aggressively participate in the passage of laws and regulations that affect the practice of medicine. We are also your go-to resource for medical records, closing or opening a practice, staff concerns, billing, coding or anything to do with running your medical practice. Our knowledgeable and professional practice management team is simply a phone call or email away for all our members.

Why You Are Needed

Chances are you are already affected by what the Arkansas Medical Society is doing, so it is imperative that you join today and share your voice and support. We need your input and your support as we work to show a united front at the state Capitol, with insurance companies, and with the other organizations who are also working to shape health care. The challenges we face as physicians have a lasting impact on our patients as well as our profession. Whether you practice in a clinic or hospital, as an employed physician, academician, or in private practice ... through the AMS, we can all work together to meet the challenges head on.
